The Circuit Court of Dinwiddie County, in session this week, has the largest and most important criminal docket known in a long while. All day yesterday was consumed in the trial of a known in a long while. All day year terday was consumed in the trial of a murder case. A negro youth named Billy Joe Hill, sixteen years old, was charged with and indicted for the mur-der of Hattle O. Lewis, a white girl, aged twelve years. The killing oc-curred at the residence of R. H. Wray der of Hattle O. Lewis, a white girl, aged twelve years. The killing occurred at the residence of R. H. Wray on the 28th of March, since which time the accused has been in jail. Mr. Wray was employed at work in Richmond, the Hill boy worked on the farm, and the girl lived at the Wray home. The girl was killed in the hallway of the house, one side of her face being blown off by the charge of the gun shot at close range, and the other eye was destroyed. She was found dead in the hallway, and Hill's arrest followed. The prisoner, while not denying the shooting, claimed that it was accidental; that he and the girl were playing in the hallway; that he did not know the gun was loaded. He was placed on trial for his life, and after a full day passed in hearing evidence on a verdict. The jurors stood eight for involuntary manslaughter, three for second degree murder, and one for acquittal.
